

Situated in the heart of New Kingston, Jamaica, the Conde' Nast Traveler-recommended Altamont Court Hotel is a social,entertainment and economic hub. Altamont Court's central location places it in close proximity to two airports, marinas, wharfs, several high commissions and embassies, major convention sites, local and international banks, couriers and money transfer services, art galleries, museums, nightclubs and entertainment centers.

While there are many hotels in Kingston, Jamaica, none can offer the astounding combination of a strategic location, top-notch accommodations, fine facilities and world-class service – all the right elements to make your hotel decision-making so much easier.
